Educational Review publishes general articles and accounts of research of interest to teachers, to lecturers, to research workers in education and educational psychology, and to students of education. Special consideration is given to articles dealing with research, with descriptions of experimental work in schools, and with critical reviews of teaching methods of curricular content in schools. From time to time the journal publishes material on administrative problems, on tests and measurement, on child growth and development, and on the relation of schools to the community.

Editorial correspondence, including books for review, should be addressed to the Editors, Educational Review, Faculty of Education, University of Birmingham, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham B15 2TT, England.

Business correspondence, including orders and remittances relating to subscriptions, advertisements, back numbers and offprints, should be addressed to the publishers: Carfax Publishing Company, Haddon House, Dorchester-on-Thames, Oxford OX9 8JZ, England.

The journal is published three times a year, in February, June and November. These three annual issues constitute one volume. An annual index and title-page is bound in with the November issue.

The British Journal of Sociology of Education publishes academic articles from throughout the world which contribute to both theory and empirical research in the sociology of education, and attempts to reflect the full variety of perspectives current in the field. In order to ensure that articles are of the highest quality all contributions are submitted to at least two referees before acceptance for publication. Apart from the main articles each issue contains essay reviews, extended reviews and a review symposium on a major book, together with a section on research reports focusing on recently completed empirical work.

BRITISH JOURNAL OF SOCIOLOGY OF EDUCATION

carfax publishing company

The quarterly Educational Psychology will provide an international forum for the discussion and rapid dissemination of research findings in psychology relevant to education. The journal will place particular emphasis on the publishing of papers reporting applied research based on experimental and behavioural studies. It is hoped that the journal will quickly become a primary source for papers ranging from pre-school to tertiary provision, concentrating primarily on 'normal' children in 'normal' educational settings. The prompt publication of high-quality articles will be the journal's first priority. All contributions will be submitted 'blind' to at least two independent referees before acceptance for publication. Contributions are invited immediately (normally no more than 8000 words, in three copies please): The Joint Editors, Educational Psychology, Department of Educational Psychology, University of Birmingham, PO Box 363, Birmingham B15 2TT, England.

The journal will be published quarterly, in March, June, September and December. Vol. 1 No. 1 March 1981. ISSN 0144–3410
